Lick of the Week:

This week, I have a Gary Moore inspired repeating blues lick for you. It's one of those licks you can just "milk" - play it over and over until you are satisfied.

It is very useful to know a few of these repeating licks, because they make for good "breathers", when you run out of creative improvisation. Then, just throw in a lick like this one.

Another Gary Moore Style lick played over D Minor. A repeatable lick, great to have as a staple lick on your shelf of ideas - repeat as long as you think it needs to repeat. A matter of taste

Played over a D minor chord progression - D power chord, C power chord, Bb power chord and back to a C power chord
